HOMILIA VII. 289 Del.

5 Rursum de Aethiopissa et de lepra Mariae quae superfuerant.

1. Sicut Apostolus dicit: »haec omnia in figura contigerunt illis, scripta sunt autem propter commonitionem nostram«, quaero, quid commonitionis accipiamus ex eo, quod lectum est nobis, quia »detraxerunt Aaron et Maria de Moyse« et propter hoc correpti sunt, Maria vero 10 etiam »leprosa« efficitur. Tanta autem fuit cura correptionis huius, ut, dum Maria septimanae tempus expleret in lepra, populus Dei non ageret iter ad terram repromissionis nec tabernaculum testimonii moveretur. Primo interim moneor et utiliter ac necessario moneor ex hoc facto, ne »detraham fratri«, ne male loquar de proximo meo, ne aperiam os 15 meum ad derogandum non solum sanctis, sed et quibuslibet proximis meis, videns quanta ex hoc indignatio Dei fuerit, quanta vindicta processerit. Denique adversum peccatum istud simili indignatione etiam in Psalmis Deum commoveri videmus et dicere: »sedens adversus fratrem tuum detrahebas, et adversus filium matris tuae ponebas scanda- 20 lum«. Similiter autem et in alio Psalmo ex persona iusti, scientis hoc Deo quam maxime displicere, dicitur: »detrahentem occulte adversus 54 Lomm. proximum suum persequebar«. Ex his igitur omnibus divinae Scripturae sermonibus, velut »gladiis quibusdam utrimque acutis«, obtrectandi fratribus et derogandi sanctis vitium resecemus: lepra enim consequitur dero-gantes et cacologos. Post haec autem a moralibus ad intelligentiam mysticam transeamus; quamvis et in superiore tractatu pauca iam dicta sint, tamen quae defuisse videntur, addemus. Videamus ergo, quis est, qui »derogat Moysi«, quis de eo male loquitur. Non solum Iudaeus, sed

5 et haeretici, qui non recipiunt legem et prophetas, etiam ipsi detrahunt de Moyse. Denique solent ei etiam crimen impingere dicentes quia homicida fuit Moyses, interfecit enim »Aegyptium«, et alia multa vel in ipsum vel in prophetas blasphemo ore concinnant. Isti ergo, quia »detrahunt Moysi«, habent lepram in anima sua et sunt in homine interiore
10 leprosi et ideo habentur »extra castra« ecclesiae Dei. Sive ergo haeretici sint, qui »derogant Moysi«, sive de ecclesia sint, qui detrahunt fratribus et male loquuntur de proximis suis, omnès qui hoc vitio aguntur, dubitandum non est, quin leprosi sint in anima sua. Et Maria quidem interveniente Aaron pontifice septima die curatur; nos vero si obtrecta-

Ego autem puto quod non solus ille*

trahant de Moyse«, sed et omnis qui scripta eius male intelligit et qui spiritalem legem carnaliter suscipit, »Moysi derogat«, quia de verbis spiritus carnaliter homines docet. Audistis, quid sibi iudicii obtrectatores et maliloqui, et quid damnationis adquirant; audite nunc et quan-

2. Audi ergo in consequentibus quid referat et quibus Moysen laudibus efferat Spiritus sanctus. »Et descendit« inquit »Dominus in coin somnis loquar ei. Non sic, sicut famulo meo Moysi, qui in tota domo mea fidelis est; os ad os loquar ad eum, in specie et non in aenigmate, et gloriam Domini vidit; et quare non timuistis detrahere de famulo meo Moysi? Et ira furoris Domini facta est super illos, et discesserunt. Et nubes recessit a tabernaculo, et ecce, Maria facta est leprosa sicut nix«. Videtis quid sibi poenae contulerint obtrectatores, quid vero illi, cui obtrectaverant, quaesiverint laudis. Sibi turpitudinem, illi splendorem, sibi lepram, illi gloriam, sibi opprobrium, illi magnificentiam quaesiverunt. Verumtamen Moyses priusquam acciperet Aethiopissam, non est scriptum quia »in specie« locutus sit ei Deus »et non in aenigmate«, sed, ubi accepit Aethiopissam, tunc dicit de eo Deus quia: »os ad os loquar ad eum, in specie et non in aenigmate«. Modo 56 Lomm.

enim cum Moyses venit ad nos et coniunctus est huic nostrae Aethiopissae, lex Dei iam non in figuris et in imaginibus sicut prius, sed in ipsa specie veritatis agnoscitur; et quae prius »in aenigmate« designabantur, nunc »in specie« et veritate complentur. Et ideo ille, qui species figurarum et aenigmatum disserebat, dicit: »scimus autem quoniam patres nostri omnes sub nube fuerunt et omnes in Moysen baptizati sunt in nube et in mari et omnes eandem escam spiritalem manducaverunt et omnes eundem potum spiritalem biberunt. Bibebant enim de spiritali sequenti petra; petra vero erat Christus«. Vides quomodo »aenigmata« legis Paulus absolvit et species aenigmatum docet et dicit quia »petra« »in 290 Del aenigmate« erat apud Moysen, antequam iungeretur huic nostrae Aethiopissae. Nunc »in specie« »petra Christus est«; nunc enim »os ad os loquitur« per legem Deus. Antea »in aenigmate« fuit baptismum »in nube et in mari«, nunc autem »in specie« »regeneratio est in aqua et Spiritu sancto«. Tunc »in aenigmate« erat manna cibus, nunc autem »in specie« caro Verbi Dei ›verus est cibus‹. sicut ipse dicit quia: »caro mea vere cibus est et sanguis meus vere potus est«. Sic ergo iam nunc Moyses apud nos positus et huic Aethiopissae coniunctus vel ipse ad nos vel ad ipsum Deus ›non loquitur in aenigmate‹, sed ›in specie‹. His autem additur: »et gloriam« inquit »Domini vidit«. Quando ›vidit Moyses gloriam Domini‹? Ego tunc dico, quando ›transformatus est‹ Dominus ›in monte‹, et aderat ei ›Moyses cum Elia et colloquebantur ei‹. Et ideo recte in consequentibus adiungit: »et quare non timuistis detrahere de famulo meo Moysi?«. Quod evidenter utique ad eos dictum dirigitur, qui evangelia quidem suscipere videntur, ›derogant‹ autem ›Moysi‹ 57 Lomm. et merito arguuntur quia, cum discant per evangelium quod Moyses una cum Elia vidit gloriam Domini, legi et prophetis ausi sunt derogare. Et ideo nos non detrahamus Moysi nec derogemus legi, sed simus non solum ›auditores legis, sed et factores‹, ut cum ipso Moyse ›conglorificari‹ mereamur. Ego autem puto quod et illi materiam praestant ad derogandum Moysi, qui, verbi causa, cum legitur liber Levitici vel lectio Numerorum, non ostendunt, quomodo haec, quae ›in aenigmate‹ scripta sunt, intelligi ›per speciem‹ debeant, id est qui non spiritaliter ea, quae in lege leguntur, exponunt. Necessario enim, qui audiunt ritum sacrificiorum vel sabbatorum observantiam vel ceterorum similium in ecclesia recitari, offendantur et dicant: quid hoc necesse est in ecclesia legi? Quo nobis prosunt praecepta Iudaica et spreti populi observantiae? Haec Iudaeorum sunt et Iudaei de his viderint. Ne ergo huiusmodi offendicula auditoribus accidant, danda opera est ad scientiam legis et secundum hoc, quod ›spiritalis est lex‹, intelligenda et explananda sunt quae leguntur, ne doctorum causa, immo desidia et negligentia, ab imperitis et indoctis derogetur Moysi; sed ›convertamur ad Dominum, ut auferat nobis velamen‹ litterae, ut non nobis deformis vultus Moysis, sed gloriosus et decorus appareat, ita ut non solum non breastplate are his; the purple with which the high priest is adorned is his; the scarlet is his" and so on for the other things. And again how shameful, how miserable it will be if the Lord, when he comes to inquire about the building of the tabernacle, should find no gift from you in it; if he should perceive nothing offered by you. Have you lived so irreligiously, so unfaithfully that you have desired to have no memorial of your own in God's tabernacle? For just as "the prince of this world"[15] comes to each one of us and seeks to find some of his own deeds in us and if indeed he find anything he claims us for himself, so also, on the contrary, if the Lord, when he comes, should find something of yours in his tabernacle, he claims you for himself and says you are his.

Lord Jesus, grant that I may deserve to have some memorial in your tabernacle. I would choose, if it be possible, that mine be something in that gold from which the mercy seat is made or from which the ark is covered or from which the candlestick and the lamps are made. Or if I do not have gold, I pray that I be found to offer some silver at least which may be useful in the columns or in their bases. Or may I certainly deserve to have some bronze in the tabernacle from which the hoops and other things are made which the word of God describes. Would that, moreover, it be possible for me to be one of the princes and to offer precious stones for the adornment of the cape and breastplate of the high priest. But because these things are beyond me, might I certainly deserve to have goats' hair in God's tabernacle, lest I be found barren and unfruitful in all things.

"Each one," therefore, "as he has understood in his heart."[16] See if you understand, see if you retain, lest perhaps what is said vanish and come to nothing. I wish to admonish you with examples from your religious practices. You who are accustomed to take part in divine mysteries know, when you receive the body of the Lord, how you protect it with all caution and veneration lest any small part fall from it, lest anything of the consecrated gift be lost. For you believe, and correctly, that you are answerable if anything falls from there by neglect. But if you are so careful to preserve his body, and rightly so, how do you think that there is less guilt to have neglected God's word than to have neglected his body?

They are ordered, therefore, to offer the first things, that is, the firstfruits. He who offers what is first by necessity has what is left for himself. See how much we ought to abound in gold and silver and all the other things which are ordered to be offered so that we might both offer to the Lord and have something left over for us. For first of all my mind ought to understand God and offer to him the firstfruits of its understanding so that when it shall have understood God well, it might consequently know the other things. Let speech also do this and all these things which are in us.

But let us also consider the other things. "Blue and purple and scarlet doubled and twisted linen."[17] Those are four materials from which either the garments of the high priest or other things which are prepared for the sacred adornment are made. Some also before us have spoken about these things and as it is not fitting to steal words belonging to another, so it is appropriate, I think, to use words said well by another and acknowledge their source. Therefore, as it appeared to men before us, these materials represent the four elements of which both the world and the human body consist, that is, air, fire, water, and earth. The blue, therefore, refers to the air—for the color itself indicates this—as also scarlet refers to fire. Purple represents water, which, as it were, receives its color from the waters; linen corresponds to the earth because it springs from the earth.[18] We also, therefore, have all these materials in us and since we are ordered to offer firstfruits from these things to the Lord, the text says: "Take from yourselves and offer firstfruits to the Lord."[19]

(4) But I think we must consider why Moses, when he spoke
